Beautiful is the conception of man, on Detroit page of a Phoenix advertisement. In foreground lies a babe wrapped like a Pima founding, at his head stands the well worn, significant of the desires of an Arizona long hair, while over the babe stands a man and on a guess I'd swear he contemplated stamping the head off that child. On bended knees, most elegantly attired, is a female. Some woman with great big wings that are spread, apparently to raise her into the clouds, has her hands crossed, and resting on opposite shoulders, no doubt, to ease rheumatic pain. A big star overlooks all around, that he'd hit that star a sight, I'd swear from the sparks flying all around, that he'd hit that star a terrible whack. Then there's a lady to rug under it, and a sofa pillow as a cent for the head.

Read this line of goods for holidays: Jewelry, watches, and clocks, knives and razors. A fine little lathe, with motor, for boy or man. Elegant flute, mandolin, Victor, Edison or Kodaks, or minute camera, 3 different lots of volumes of books, from noted authors, cheap. Pistols or guns; elegant rifles. I assure you, if selected from the piles, and children's writing desks, and chifoniers, something. The price never will be duplicated. Have 5 patterns brass and enameled beds, which I sell 20 per cent less than market price—they are new. Our elegant new rugs, from Smith, Phila. will be on sale Friday, so please you and show you my goodness (C) of heart, the price will be almost cost. Our line of heaters, gas particularly, and ranges, gas wood or coal, or gasoline, and stoves, beat anything ever on market. Stoves, beat anything ever on market. In both price and quality. Do you realize that I keep a man just to put stoves in order and never put one out, but of repair. You continually ask me to sell this old Swiss made box with all boards, and buffers, roll top writing desks, glass, or other from cupboards, drawers, 20 styles, commodes, tables, chairs, rockers. Show me a dealer having such nice goods, at such fearful low prices, and I'll motivate my own nose. I am the King of the Junk—the man that raises it—up at all Shylock and who always leads, (not follows) any place where he drives his stakes. Every morning before the glass I look closely to see if it be 1, and I swell daily.
